Hundreds Participate in TONH Polar Plunge

Port Washington, NY—Supervisor Jon Kaiman announced today that the pouring rain and frigid waters at North Hempstead Beach Park did not stop hundreds of brave residents and non-residents from participating in the annual Special Olympics Polar Plunge!

“It’s great to see this many brave souls taking the plunge for a great cause,” said Supervisor Kaiman. “This was my third plunge in a row and it gets better and colder every year!”

Despite freezing temperatures and incessant rain, participants took the plunge for a great cause raising nearly $75,000 to benefit the athletes of Special Olympics New York.
