

Moss phlox (Phlox subulata): This low growing perennial plant spreads quickly and is a good groundcover. It has fragrant flowers with varieties that can be pink, purple, or white. It stays semi-evergreen in the winter. Its early blooms are helpful to pollinators emerging in the spring. Blooms March to May.

