

Blazing star (Liatris spicata): This plant in the aster family is upright, clump forming and has fluffy, thistle-like, purple flowers. Its flowers provide food for bees and butterflies. Blooms July through August.

