

Button bush (Cephalanthus occidentalis): This deciduous shrub is erosion tolerant and grows well in wet soils including standing water. Its white clusters of flowers are very attractive to bees, hummingbirds, butterflies and moths and many species of birds consume its seeds. Blooms June through August.

