

Northern bayberry (Myrica pensylvanica): This dense, branching, dioecious shrub (have separate male and female plants) has tiny, grayish-white fruits in the summer through winter. It provides good cover and food for birds and small mammals. Blooms April to May.

